VW 2.3 VR5 Hurricane H-Beam Con-Rods Description

Hurricane Speed and Performance is proud to manufacture the highest quality connecting rods available for all kinds of applications, at a reasonable price. This is accomplished through careful design, manufacturing, and quality control processes. With hundreds and hundreds of sets of various connecting rods, especially VW and Audi rods.

The material specification and treatment is equally important to producing a quality connecting rod with a high strength to weight ratio. Our steel rods feature 4340 Chrome Moly steel for the highest possible fatigue life. The material is multi-stage heat treated to ensure the highest possible fatigue strength as well as good dimensional stability. This feature ensures that our big ends stay round for a lifetime of bearing trouble free service. Following this pattern of high quality, ARP 2000 rod bolts are standard in all of our applications, which you could purchase with the best price from distributor or USA directly.
